His Weak Spot.
"It's a hard matter to see some of these money kings."
"That depends on whether they have hobbies or not."
"How so?"
"Six ordinary millionaires were waiting to have an audience with a financier of that sort the other day when a fellow wearing a sweater, who had a couple of prize bulldogs for sale, got by the whole crowd and spent half an hour in the august presence."
Quite Another Story.
Stern Parent—No, daughter, I can never consent to your marriage with a man who gambles like young Saifkins does.
Pretty Daughter—But, papa, he says he will return every dollar he ever won from you on his wedding day.
Stern Parent—Well, why didn't you say so in the first place? The sooner you marry him, my dear, the better.

Business Proposition.
The foreign nobleman entered the old man's private office.
"Mr. Millyuns," he began, "I love your daughter, and have come this morning to ask you for her hand in marriage."
"Hem!" exclaimed the old man, musingly, "what are your lowest terms?"
No More Drawing Done.
"According to Pope," remarked the literary boarder, "beauty draws us with a single hair."
"Perhaps it did in Pope's day," growled the fussy bachelor, "but it's different now. When a beauty reaches the stage where she has only one hair left to draw to, she doesn't draw much."

"I hear your marriage to Jack is definitely postponed."
"Yes. He says it may be a week, and it may be a year before we marry. You see, he married another girl."

Soothing a Suffragist.
Hush, little woman,
Don't you cry;
You'll get the ballot
By and by.

Radical Remedy.
"At last," exclaimed the medical student, "I have discovered a sure cure for corns."
"Put me wise," said his friend.
"Have your feet amputated," replied the embryo M. D., with a ghoulsh chuckle.

Matter of Years.
Editor—And you say this joke is original with you?
Humorist—Certainly.
Editor—Well, you don't look it.
Humorist—Don't look what?
Editor—To be four hundred years old.

As Others See Us.
Greene—I wonder how old Grindem managed to acquire so much money?
Browne—Don't know. But there's one thing certain—the price he paid for a clear conscience didn't keep him poor.

Concentrating Now.
"The salesman from whom I bought my car said it would make me forget my troubles."
"Did his prediction come true?"
"To a certain extent. It has made me forget all my other troubles."

Hypocritical.
"Some of these motion picture censors are hard to please."
"Indeed they are. I'm beginning to think there is precious little love making nowadays that would pass the average board of censors."

His Experience.
The Bachelor—A woman has to marry a man before she finds him out.
The Widow—Yes; and then she finds him out nearly every night.

USE OF BACTERIAL VACCINE

Vaccination as Preventive for Strangles and Distemper Being Extensively Employed.

The vaccination of horses as a preventive for strangles or distemper is being extensively employed. It has been found that the cause of the disease warrants the use of a bacterial vaccine. This gives assistance to nature's own efforts of protection and forms the logical means of preventing strangles as well as other diseases caused by specific organisms.

The outcome of the vaccination of horses has in some instances been disappointing. It is possible that in such cases the bacteria has deteriorated or become ineffective, or that the results are complicated by secondary infections. In the latter case it is advisable to use bacterins that will combat the secondary infections. These are called mixed bacterins, and contain a variety of killed bacteria commonly encountered in such diseases.

In case distemper appears, all healthy animals should be immediately injected with streptobacterins. The administration of bacterial vaccines should be made by a competent veterinarian, as improper administration may not provide proper protection and so result in irregularities. Bacterins can be obtained from manufacturers of various biological products.

CLIPPING HORSES IN SPRING

Heavy Coat of Hair Causes Much Sweating, Which is Enervating to Work Animals.

A good many horses come through the winter season with heavy, rough coats that are not shed when spring work begins; the result is they are uncomfortable when at heavy work. A heavy coat of hair causes much sweating, which is enervating to the horse and consequently produces an unnecessary drain upon his strength and vitality. Nor is this all. A horse that sweats freely during the changing weather of spring is very apt to take cold. Rough, shaggy coats should be clipped in the spring before heavy work begins.

There are excellent clippers on the market for this purpose, and they can be bought at very reasonable prices. A good clipper will pay for itself in a single season on almost any farm, and sometimes it will do much more than that. If a team is laid up with a bad cold for a few days when work is pressing the loss of work may become very expensive. This should be avoided by the use of a clipper and incidentally also make the horse more comfortable.

KEEP ALL SWINE CONTENTED

One of Most Difficult Animals to Control Once It Gets Habit of Breaking Out of Pasture.

When a hog once gets the habit of getting out of its yard, pasture or whatever its enclosure may be, it is one of the most difficult animals to control. You can stop a breachy horse or cow if you build a fence high enough, but a hog goes through. If there is no hole in the fence it makes one. Of course if the fence was so tight at first that the hog could not get through, it won't bother you the second and forty-ninth time.

Contented Sow.

Insufficient or irregular feeding, or failing to supply something which the animals crave in the feed makes hogs restless and ready to take the first chance of exploring the outside world in hopes of finding what they failed to find in their troughs.

COMFORTABLE PEN FOR SOWS

Cheaper to Warm Animal With Reasonably Good Building Than to Furnish Alfalfa.

Do the hogs have warm, dry beds? Remember that it is a matter of economy in rearing hogs to provide them with comfortable quarters. It is cheaper to warm a hog with a reasonably good building, with straw and litter, than to burn alfalfa hay and 60-cent corn in maintaining the heat of the animal body.

PERMITTING RAM WITH EWES

Not Advisable to Let Him Run With Flock Longer Than Six Weeks to Prevent Accidents.

Never let the ram run with the ewes any longer than six weeks, for he will butt them around and cause them to lose their lambs.
They will mostly all get with lamb sooner than this, but it is best to keep him in long enough to be sure.
